2.8: Key Takeaways

The key takeaways of this chapter are:

- Vaccine-preventable diseases are caused by bacteria and viruses that can be prevented by vaccines.
- The timing and spacing of vaccines in a given region can be accessed through provincial/territorial immunization schedules.