1.4: Reflective Questions

1. What type of data do you collect when completing a complete subjective health assessment?
2. How do you differentiate symptoms from signs?
3. When should you conduct a complete subjective health assessment?
4. What strategies should you use to address influencing factors of common situational issues that can arise during a complete subjective data assessment?