2.10: Sample Documentation

Information obtained during a health history interview is typically documented on agency-specific forms. See “Chapter Resources A” for a sample health history form used for documentation purposes. Additional information collected that is not included on the form should be documented in an associated progress note.